

This data is used for predicting dissolved oxygen in the Beijing Hangzhou Grand Canal. A water quality prediction model is constructed with dissolved oxygen at station 1 as the target and dissolved oxygen, meteorological elements, and water quality data at stations 1-5 as the features